PRESIDENT GARFIELD.

Our new President is fairly in harness, and the promises are, if one can judge from his inaugural, the Administration of President Garfield will be as good as the best the country has enjoyed. He will bring about a cordial feeling between the people of both sections of the country, and a "Solid" South be no longer a political bugbear in the land. Garfield will be firm in all his undertakings, and he is not a man who will submit to the dictation of any man, however great the would-be Dictator may be in his own conceit and that of the people of the State he claims as his own. His inaugural expresses a kindly interest in the people of the South, and the press of that section express the satisfaction of the Southern people with his first official utterances. He favors the largest liberty in the matter of universal, but pure, suffrage, and promises to protect the colored voters in their rights, and would like to have them, and all the illiterates in the land, enjoy the blessings of a National system of education. He is very decided in regard to polygamy, and thinks it should be eradicated by the strong arm of the law. His administration will be a gold and silver one as regards the currency of the country. He is sound on the ship canal question, and he will assert the rights and authority of the United States in such matters when occasion requires action on his part. He favors civil service reform in the highest degree, and will ask Congress to legislate on the subject. The inaugural address and President Garfield's Cabinet appointments have been well received throughout the country, and have given general satisfaction to the members of his own party, excepting, perhaps, a few who, if they cannot rule, would run, but Garfield's luckless one is evidently stiff enough to withstand their assault.

ELECTION LAW.—The following is the Election Law:

Sec. 1. Section 4109, of the Political Code is amended to read as follows: All elective county, city and county, and township officers, except Superior Court Judges, Superintendents of School and Assessors, shall be elected at the general election to be held in the year 1882, and at the general election to be held every second year thereafter, and shall take office on the first Monday of January next succeeding their election, and shall hold office for two years. The years that said officers are to hold office are to be computed respectively from and including the first Monday of January of any one year to and excluding the first Monday of January of the next succeeding year; provided that all Supervisors and Justices of the Peace shall take office on the first Monday after the first day of January next succeeding their election, and shall hold office for two years. The years during which Supervisors and Justices of the Peace are to hold office are to be computed respectively from and including the first Monday of January of any one year, to and excluding the first Monday of January of the next succeeding year.

Sec. 2. Assessors of every county, and of every city and county, shall be elected at the general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1881, and at the general election to be held every four years thereafter, and shall hold office from and after the first Monday of March next succeeding their election.

THE CABINET.—President Garfield's Cabinet is as follows: Secretary of State, Jas. G. Blaine, of Maine; Secretary of the Treasury, Wm. Windom, of Minnesota; Secretary of the Interior, Samuel J. Kirkwood, of Iowa; Secretary of War, Robert T. Lincoln, of Illinois; Secretary of the Navy, Wm. H. Hunt, of Louisiana; Attorney General, Wayne McVeagh, of Pennsylvania; Postmaster General, Thos. L. James, of New York. This is a good Cabinet—one that is satisfactory to the public.

On Tuesday last the Citizens' ticket was successful in Sacramento, defeating the Democrats and Republicans. The city is strongly Republican, but at this election a just rebuke was administered to the machine Republicans.

On Saturday last ex-President Hayes departed from Washington for his home, escorted by the Cleveland troops which accompanied President Garfield to Washington. A great ovation was extended to him.

There are in the United States about 28 match factories, employing about 4,000 persons. The trade, however, is monopolized by six or seven prominent concerns, of which the Barber, at Akron, is the largest.

On Saturday last the Pennsylvania Insane Asylum, at Danville, was destroyed by fire. Loss, $1,000,000. The 350 patients were saved.

The President has appointed Everts, Howe and Thurman United States Commissioners to the International Monetary Conference.

Of the $1,401,900 mining assessments of the Nevada mines, thus far this year, $1,136,900 goes to Storey county, from which not a dollar is returned in dividends.

Between 1200 and 1300 dogs have been entered for the show at the Alexandra Palace.

LETTER FROM JO. WASSON.

SACRAMENTO, MARCH 8, 1881.

EDITORS UNION.—Am obliged indeed for your uniformly kind expressions for the undersigned, especially those of recent date, for this last Legislature has been more vexatious by all odds over that of last year, when there were 100 days to try to do something in. That little criticism of yours about the bill to define residence and time of absence from the county on the part of Superior Judges, was introduced by request of the author, a lawyer, now resident of your town, and you must settle the matter with him; I will have to shoulder enough as it is. Judge Nye, of Alameda, insisted on attempting the passage of a bill through the Senate repealing the law creating a second Judge in Mono. It failed, of course, for want of time, and I did not bother much about it. The number of dispatches, etc., sent by people of Bodie and Bridgeport last Spring, asking for an extra Judge, made the county the butt of the Senate, and they throw it up to me yet on every occasion—"Any more telegrams from Bodie?" "Any more Judges wanted?" etc., etc.

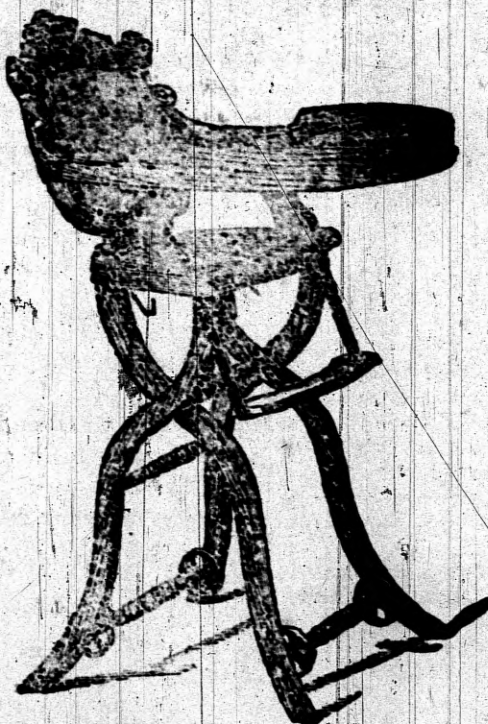

While I am writing you at all, and I have got a little extra time, I will say that the people and press of the State have, as a rule, no proper estimate of the difficulties of conclusive legislation as found under the new Constitution. In one sentence I can state the whole overruling problem, and that is, that the Constitution is in itself but one Constitution, while it expects the Legislature to create at least a dozen new Constitutions, each as difficult to do as the Constitution found their task in 1879 days. These general laws, such as county and town government, revenue and taxation, and so on, are each a Constitution and more difficult to harmonize with the main instrument and have it stand with the Supreme Court than it was to create the new organic act. It was easy enough for that Convention to say you "shall" do so and so, and at the same time put it in such shape that all the best law makers in the world could not do it in an entire generation. Over half a dozen members of this Legislature were members of that immortal Convention, and they don't to-day know as much for certain about it as I do. In short, there is but one way out and that is the broad, best way—that is, let the Governor call an extra session and let the Legislature sit here and work out something on these main propositions, in connection with the Supreme Court, if it takes all Summer, next Winter, and the Summer following, and I would rather be crucified than have to do my share of it. That is the only way out of the scrape in which the people have got themselves, and the cheapest way out, except the Legislature should call a new Convention to repeal the "present abomination," as you style it, and re-adapt the old general law with a few amendments. That is the whole business in a nutshell, and I care nothing for the back talk of any man or paper, big or little. Why, just think of the case of our last attempt at a county government law. It was introduced early in the session by one of the Senators, who had worked on it ever since we adjourned last Winter. When it came out of the Committee it was so amended as to cease to have the original owner's name to it. It was then lifted out of its order on the file and made special business from day to day, only succeeding to reach the Assembly at all until almost the last day of the session! Now, what are you, or any one else, going to do about a case like that? I don't mean this remark in any bantering spirit. Again, as to the town or municipal government bill. It never got out of the Assembly Committee, where it was first introduced by a member who made of it over 500 pages. The Committee razed it to less than 300 pages, and so got it on to the file at last. I sent a copy of it by slow freight to Jack McQuaid, who is as sure to, after pondering over it a week or so, go insane, run amuck and kill a Superior Judge or two, or something like desperate. If he will on y extend his raid to the Supreme Court, the Legislature to come might have a show to do something. As to a general road law, I never expect to see one, if we sit here from June to eternity. You may think this all mere "funny business." Come and see for yourself; I'll resign in your favor.

By being on deck every day of the session, and watching opportunity I got my Miners' Hospital bill through both houses; also a joint resolution to remove the fine cabinet of minerals from the cockpit of the State Library to the care of the State Mineralogist at San Francisco, where a thousand will see it to one if it remain here. I had several other good measures on the files, only to see them die in spite of fate. Every other member is in the same boat, and nearly all have scattered home, or elsewhere, in disgust with themselves, and I suppose, to the delight of the people at large. I have been dosing myself on quinine for the past few days in fear of fever and ague, as the hot weather and flooded blocks, lots, etc., are making steaming cesspools of half the city. It would be just lightning to return here and stay all Summer, yet that is the only way for the Governor to solve the appropriation problem. The Republicans have sworn that without a fair opportunity to carry an apportionment law under the census of 1880, they will vote no money to carry on the State government. The Democrats refused to grant the two-thirds majority to lift the apportionment bill up along with the appropriation, hence the extra session. Then let the Governor in his call designate about half a dozen leading subjects, and turn the animals loose and let the people keep hands off until it is a success or failure. This may not be a very cheerful view of the situation, but as my prophecies have come true heretofore under the new Constitution, I'll risk those of the present. Until I know more about the extra session, my address will be 330 Pine street, S. F. Truly,

ASTRONOMY.—Venus and the moon will have a close conjunction this evening. Bodie Free Press, March 9th.

Just Bodie's luck. The clouds obscured the conjunction between Jupiter and Luna on Wednesday evening. Ibid, Mar. 10th.

The astronomical sharp of the Press is always considerably off on his propositions. On Wednesday evening Jupiter and Venus were not courting Luna. While the Moon was at Bodie, Venus was bathing at Fale's Warm Springs and Jupiter was at Barnett's Hotel, Coleville. On the 3d inst. Venus was close to the horn of the moon—about an inch; terrestrial measurement, and Jupiter was ten miles below Venus. This style of measuring is for the Press folks.

November 21st, it said: "To-day is the shortest of the year." One month ahead of time. December 1st, it said: "To-day is the commencement of Winter." Twenty days ahead of time. As an offset to the above shortcomings, it is just to say that on December 17th, it said: "Three months from to-day is St. Patrick's Day."

CRIMINAL TRIALS.—On Tuesday last, Judge Briggs set the following cases: John Dixon, grand larceny; April 11th. H. Morton, grand larceny, March 21st. Wm. McLaughlin, assault with deadly weapon, March 23d.

The first through San Francisco train, via the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad, will leave Kansas City and Atchison on regular card, Thursday, March 17th, and thereafter daily through trains will be run over that route, which is pronounced by travelers free from delays incident to the weather.
